The Encyclopedia of British Literature: 1660-1789

Edited by Gary Day & Jack Lynch

De Montfort University, UK; Rutgers University, Newark, USA

Featuring entries from an international cast of prominent scholars, The Encyclopedia of British Literature 1660–1789 presents a comprehensive overview of all aspects of the poetry, drama, fiction, and literary and cultural criticism produced from the Restoration of the English monarchy to the onset of the French Revolution.

- Comprises over 340 entries arranged in A-Z format across three fully indexed and cross-referenced volumes
- Written by an international team of leading and emerging scholars
- Includes coverage of both canonical and lesser-known authors, as well as entries addressing gender, sexuality, and other topics that have previously been underrepresented in traditional scholarship
- Features an impressive scope and range of subjects: from courtship and circulating libraries, to the works of Samuel Johnson and Sarah Scott
